

Aimies Street, London SW11

Guide Price: £485

807 sq ft

This breath-taking top floor loft in Battersea is located with in a secure gated development of an old school building.

This desirable loft is 800 square feet of stunning living space with double height vaulted ceilings, original beams and parquet flooring. From the reception area is a wrought iron spiral staircase leading to a spacious bedroom with cleverly designed built in storage. The bathroom is accessed via a hidden door from the bedroom and benefits from a free standing roll top bath as well as a separate walk in shower. The kitchen is separate and modern with integrated appliances.

This top floor loft benefits from an abundance of natural light with south facing double height windows.

The Village is one of London's original 'shell' loft schemes, conceived by Sapcote Lofts around the time that The Manhattan Loft Corporation were using the same ideas with East London warehouses. There is secured allocated parking, day time caretaker and some well maintained communal gardens. The apartments here offer some the largest and most expensive lofts in London.
